

Your operation has outgrown legacy software.

Your current permanent licensing software has been dependable, but it was designed for a different generation of technology. With little to no updates since 2019, permanent software is becoming harder to support, slower to adapt, and increasingly disconnected from what's available today.

Kahler Automation's Terminal Management TMX subscription software is the next step forward—a modern platform designed to improve performance today while opening the door to what's next.

Modern performance and advanced capabilities

- » Improve loadout efficiency and receiving workflows with faster, more streamlined processes
- » Enhance functionality beyond legacy systems with load optimization and improved product handling
- » Strengthen system performance and validation with SQL Server support
- » Support evolving operational needs without relying on workarounds
- » Increase site throughput while improving the overall driver experience

Continuous innovation

- » Gain access to ongoing feature development—not just maintenance updates
- » Receive regular software improvements and bug fixes through supported releases
- » Unlock new capabilities as your operational needs evolve
- » Maintain visibility into updates with clear revision history
